💼 System and Web Developer

OBJECTIVE

I am a very passionate and dedicated person towards the things I love to do, especially my job. With my sufficient experience in Development, I could confidently provide various web solutions, system analysis and database designing. For me to cope up with my inner peace, I do usually work as a back-end developer. Accomplishing the given tasks and complying to the client and company standards is what I always do passionately with an open mind.
